

Geocaching
Urban nature walk
at Landschaftspark Herzberge

Invitation 3

Listening with your mind and heart

Look around and walk towards the direction which is calling you. Take a few steps until you find a place where you feel at home and comfortable. Feel free to take a seat. Close your eyes and direct your focus on the sounds around you. What can you hear? Sounds of nature? Traffic noise? People talking? Perhaps something entirely different?

Whatever you're hearing, it is meant for you at this very moment. You might focus on one single sound, maybe you feel like listening to the full range the surroundings are providing you...

Perhaps there is a special sound that intrigues your mind? Whatever you're listening to, your ears are not the only parts of you participating in your listening process... maybe you sense a message reaching your mind or your heart. If so, try to listen to it. Give yourself as much time as you feel is the right amount for you.

Keep this moment in your memory as something unique which will always be a part of you.

KulturNest e.V.

Placing Nature at the Centre of Culture in Europe

KulturNest e.V. is a Berlin-based non-profit organisation that believes in the power of bottom-up initiatives, creativity and civic participation to create meaningful social change. We design and facilitate learner-centred, non-formal educational experiences that connect people with one another, with nature and with their own capacity to shape the world around them. Our interdisciplinary team of artists, forest therapists, facilitators, youth workers and other practitioners works collaboratively with communities to create empowering spaces for learning, co-creation, wellbeing and social connection.